CNIC:

Dear Huzaifa Hakeem,

Following the Show Cause Notice dated 18th March 2026 issued to you regarding your attendance, professional conduct, and performance during your training period, and after careful review of the circumstances, including your failure to adhere to company policies, the Company has determined that your continuation of employment is no longer viable. It has been recorded that you were absent on 4 March 2026 without following the proper leave procedure, and additionally, you worked from home on 18 March 2026 without obtaining prior approval from either the HR Department or your reporting manager. As clearly communicated, Work From Home (WFH) is strictly prohibited during the training period, making this a direct violation of company policy.

Furthermore, your overall performance during the training period has not met the standards expected for your role. Your lack of adherence to attendance protocols, combined with unsatisfactory performance and limited engagement with assigned responsibilities, has raised serious concerns regarding your commitment, reliability, and alignment with organizational expectations. Despite being given an opportunity to explain your position, the concerns remain unresolved. Such conduct has adversely impacted workflow coordination, team productivity, and the learning outcomes expected during your training phase.

Accordingly, your employment is terminated effective 31st March 2026, in line with your contract and applicable labor laws.

Please note the following important points:

1. Final Settlement: You will receive all outstanding salary and benefits accrued up until your last working day, in accordance with the terms of your employment agreement.
2. Company Property: All company assets in your possession, including documents, devices, files and credentials, must be returned by your last working day.
3. Confidentiality & Reputation Obligations: You remain bound by the confidentiality provisions of your employment contract even after your departure. This includes any proprietary or confidential information related to the Company, its clients, employees, and operations.
4. Non-Disparagement: You are reminded of your obligation to refrain from making any negative or disparaging statements, whether verbal, written, or on social media, that may harm the reputation or interests of the Company. Any violation of this obligation could result in legal action under relevant labor, civil and cybercrime laws.
5. Exit Process: Please liaise with the HR department to complete the necessary clearance formalities and receive your final settlement.

We regret that the circumstances have led to this outcome and thank you for your time with the Company. We wish you the best of luck in your future professional endeavors.

Sincerely,
HR Team
